

i) ERP & It stands for Enterprise Resource Planning. It is a process whereby an enterprise, often a manufacture, manages and integrates the important parts of its business. It integrates many fields like planning, purchasing, inventory, sales, marketing, finance, and human resource.

ii) BPI & It stands for Business Process Integration. It will automate manual processes and improve communication with different systems. In addition, it will lower operational cost.